- TYPES OF CONTRACTS COVERED BY STAFF REGULATIONS AND CEOS

The working and contractual conditions of EASA staff are based on the Staff Regulations (SR) and the Conditions of Employment of Other Servants of the European Union (CEOS). The Agency is staffed mainly by Temporary Agents and Contract Agents, recruited through open selection procedures. In addition, the Agency may also make use of Seconded National Experts (SNE).

Temporary Agents

In accordance with Article 8 CEOS, Temporary Agents are engaged for a fixed period of maximum 5 years which may be renewed for another period of maximum 5 years or an indefinite period. If the contract is renewed for a fixed period, any further renewal will be for an indefinite period.

Temporary Agent posts are classified according to the nature and importance of the duties required:

- Administrators' function group (AD): comprises twelve grades from AD 5 to AD 16 corresponding to technical, administrative, advisory, linguistic and scientific duties. Depending on the background and expertise required for the post, recruitment grades are usually between AD5 and AD8. Higher grades are used for specific profiles, mostly for management positions.
- Assistants' function group (AST): comprises eleven grades from AST 1 to AST 11 corresponding to executive, technical and clerical duties. Depending on the background and expertise required for the post, recruitment grades are usually between AST 1 and AST 3.

Temporary Agents are required to serve a probationary period of nine months.¹

Contract Agents

The duration of contracts for Contract Agents varies according to the needs of the Agency. Most Contract Agents receive a first contract for a duration between 1 and 3 years. The contract may be renewed in accordance with Article 85 of the CEOS.

Contract Agent posts are classified in four function groups corresponding to the duties and responsibilities involved:

- Function group IV: comprises six grades corresponding to administrative, advisory, linguistic and equivalent technical tasks
- Function group III: comprises five grades corresponding to executive tasks, drafting, accountancy and other equivalent technical tasks
- Function group II: comprises four grades corresponding to clerical and secretarial tasks, office management and other equivalent tasks
- Function group I: comprises three grades corresponding to manual and administrative support service tasks

Special provisions for Contract Agents Function Group IV Concerning Contract Renewals for an indefinite period:

For those EASA staff members who will be employed as Contract Agents in Function Group IV please be informed that in accordance with Article 85(3) of the Conditions of Employment of Other Servants of the European Union (CEOS), Contract Agents in Function Group IV shall, before renewal of a contract for an indefinite period may be offered, be required to demonstrate the ability to work in a third language (at B2 level) among those referred to in 55(1) of the Treaty on European Union. EASA provides access to training for those staff members who require it.

¹ The conditions of employment for Temporary Agents are described in the Staff Regulations and in the Conditions of Employment of other Servants of the European Union in Title II (Articles 8–56), <http://eur-lex.europa.eu/LexUriServ/LexUriServ.do?uri=CONSLEG:1962R0031:20140101:EN:PDF>

Contract Agents whose contract is concluded for a duration of at least one year are required to serve the following probationary periods:

- 6 months if employed in function group I
- 9 months if employed in function group II-IV.

Seconded National Experts

Seconded national experts (SNEs) are staff employed by national, regional or local public administrations or public intergovernmental organisations (IGO) who are seconded to the Agency under the rules applicable to such experts. They have a dual role: to bring their experience to the Agency and to transfer the knowledge acquired during their secondment at EASA to their home administration. However, in order to ensure that EASA's independence is not compromised by private interests, the secondment of an SNE by an employer other than a national, regional or local public administration or an IGO should be authorised only on a case-by-case basis.

Secondment is not equivalent to Agency employment, nor does it lead to employment by the Agency. Seconded National Experts shall remain in the service of their employer throughout the period of secondment. During such time they will remain subject to the social security legislation applicable to their employer, who will assume responsibility for permissible expenses incurred abroad. Seconded National Experts are entitled to a daily and monthly subsistence allowance, paid by the Agency, during the period of secondment.

The initial period of secondment may not be less than six months or more than two years. It may be renewed once or more, up to a total period not exceeding four years. Exceptionally, at the request of the Directorate concerned and where the interest of the service warrants it, the Executive Director of EASA may authorise one or more extensions of the secondment for a maximum of two more years at the end of the four-year period. The place of secondment is either Cologne or Brussels.

• OTHER CONTRACTS

The Agency sometimes uses recruitment agencies for the short-term placement of interim staff as well as a number of intra muros consultants primarily in the IT department through a number of specific framework contracts.

Interim staff

In particular for secretarial/administrative tasks, the Agency may use interim staff for short periods of time to cover for staffing needs arising from one or more of the following reasons:

- Short or long term absences of staff (e.g. maternity, parental, unpaid, sick leave);
- Implementation of specific programmes and/or projects of a limited duration.

Interim assignments may have a duration of up to 9 months and may be extended for a maximum period of another 9 months in exceptional cases.

Consultants and independent external experts

The Agency makes use of external consultants, primarily in the IT department, through specific framework contracts.

In addition, independent external experts may be contracted by the Agency through a call for expression of interest (link).

TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

In order to effectively contribute to the Agency mission, the Agency aims to continuously develop the professional skills of its employees and consequently at improving their overall performance. For this purpose, the Agency provides a variety of training activities of both a general and technical nature. This includes management, soft skills, finance, IT training and specific and up-to-date technical training for the staff working in the technical areas.

Temporary and Contract Agents at the Agency are subject to an annual performance appraisal. At the start of the reporting period, objectives are agreed between the line manager and the jobholder which establish the expected achievements of the jobholder. The purpose of the appraisal system is to assess the performance during a certain time period against the related annual objectives of the jobholder. The annual evaluation encourages jobholders to develop their potential and to consider possible career advancement. A reclassification policy linked to the performance appraisal is applied on an annual basis and guarantees performance-based career advancement in the grade.

ALLOWANCES AND BENEFITS

In addition to the basic salary as shown in Annex I and II (link), Temporary Agents and Contract Agents may receive various allowances depending on their personal circumstances. The final salary is calculated by adding the relevant allowances and by deducting social security contributions and other taxes.

Each grade is divided into seniority steps with corresponding salary increases. Staff are granted automatically an additional seniority step every two years. The remuneration of the officials and other servants of the European Union shall be adapted every year, taking into account the economic and social policy of the Union. To offset the higher or lower cost of living in Cologne compared with Brussels, the remuneration is weighted by applying a coefficient. The current weighting coefficient for Germany is 100.1 % compared with Brussels, which marks 100%.

The main benefits, deductions and contributions are summarised below. This information is indicative as entitlements are determined upon recruitment, and only once the relevant supporting documents are provided.

This tax is levied progressively at a rate of between 8% and 45% of the taxable portion of the salary.

A solidarity levy (6%) calculated on the part of the remuneration exceeding the minimum remuneration.

Social security contributions (% of basic salary)

Pension (10.10%)

Health insurance (1.70%)

Accident cover (0.10%)

Unemployment insurance (0.81%)

Sickness and accident insurance, Health

EASA staff members are covered 24/7 and worldwide, by the EU Joint Sickness Insurance Scheme (JSIS). The JSIS coverage for family members is usually ensured but will depend on individual circumstances.

Before commencement of duties, new staff members are required to undergo a pre-employment medical examination. In addition, EASA staff members are required to undergo an annual medical check-up.

Pension

Throughout the period of service, Agents are members of the EU pension scheme. The pension is granted after completing a minimum of ten years' service or reaching the pensionable age. For staff entering service after 1st January 2014¹² the pensionable age is currently 66 years. The current monthly pension contribution is indicated here. ¹² For more information please refer to Article 52 of the Staff Regulations.

Teleworking

Teleworking is a method of organising and carrying out work outside the workplace, located at a reasonable distance from the place of employment that would allow the staff member to reach the workplace in an appropriate/reasonable time span, with the help of information and communication technologies. It aims to help the Agency to achieve a more productive, result-oriented working environment that is conducive to a positive work-life balance, while maintaining the possibility for the manager to require a teleworker to come to the Agency's premises in an agreed time span during a teleworking day if so required in the interest of the service. Additionally, it has a beneficial impact on the environment by limiting commuting and improves the business-continuity of the Agency.

The Agency should make teleworking available 'to the possible extent' in so far as the tasks carried out by the staff member allow the required equilibrium between the interests of the service, the business continuity obligations, and the Agency's ability to react swiftly to unforeseen events/urgent business needs and/or emergencies. Teleworking is primarily foreseen from the place of employment or at a reasonable distance from the place of employment, subject to specific agreement.

More information on teleworking will be provided upon your start at EASA.

Work-Life Balance

Under certain conditions, the Agency enables staff members to reconcile their family and professional life by offering flexible work arrangements, such as part-time work, parental leave and teleworking. Mothers are entitled to 20 weeks maternity leave and fathers to 10 days paternity leave whilst receiving their regular salary, while a minimum of 6 months parental leave per child is available on a basic monthly allowance.

In addition, the Agency has implemented a flexitime system. The daily working hours are divided into core working hours and flexible working hours. The core working hours mean the time of the day when staff members are obliged to be present. Flexible working hours mean that the Agency staff members are free to choose their time of arrival or departure. Exceptions would be holidays, missions, and sick leave.

Other benefits

The Agency employees benefit from a range of other benefits, such as:

- Reduced fares with public transport in the wider Cologne/Bonn area ("Job Ticket")
- Special car license plates. For staff employed in Germany, the plates are issued by the German Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

The Agency has reserved a limited number of child-care places in a local, public "Kindergarten" and contributes (up to defined ceilings for primary and secondary education), to the school fees by means of service contracts signed with certain international schools in the Cologne region.

Various leisure, sport and cultural activities are open to the Agency staff members and their families, including a "Stammtisch (informal "get together")", sports events, and an EASA Flying Club.
