Simone Rauer

simone.rauer@airbus.com

Simone is External Affairs Senior Director at Airbus.

She has 27 years of experience within Airbus and has progressed within the company holding various positions within Corporate Finance, Procurement, Aftersales, Air Transport Affairs and Corporate Affairs.

Since 2018, at corporate level, Simone is focussing on addressing environmental challenges linked to aircraft operations, in particular aviation's decarbonisation as well as climate impacts of non-CO2 emissions. This role encompasses engaging and collaborating with key industry partners and associations, policy makers and other key aviation stakeholders at national and international levels in order to make collective progress towards reducing the industry's climate and environmental footprint.
