Background

One of the main activities performed by EASA in order to efficiently contribute to the protection of the aviation system from cyberattacks and their consequences is the introduction of a robust regulatory framework that allows organisations to manage cybersecurity risks.

This is being done in coordination with EU Institutions, international regulatory partners, Industry and States through rulemaking task RMT.0720, where the first milestone was the publication, on 27th May 2019, of NPA 2019-07 proposing the introduction of provisions for the management of information security risks related to those information systems used in civil aviation. These provisions shall apply to competent authorities and organisations in all aviation domains (i.e. design, production, management of continuing airworthiness, maintenance, air operations, aircrew, air traffic management/air navigation services (ATM/ANS), and aerodromes), include high-level, performance-based requirements, and shall be supported by acceptable means of compliance (AMC), guidance material (GM), and industry standards.

The public consultation for NPA 2019-07 was open for comments until 27th September 2019 and the comments received are currently being evaluated by EASA in coordination with the European Strategic Coordination Platform (ESCP).

The NPA is published on EASA's website:
https://www.easa.europa.eu/document-library/notices-of-proposed-amendment/npa-2019-07

Aim of the conference

Similarly to what happened in previous years, EASA will be organizing in cooperation with a National Aviation Authority a “High Level Cybersecurity Conference” in 2020. This event is being co-organized by EASA and the Spanish CAA (AESA) and will take place at Madrid (Spain) on 4th and 5th March 2020.

This conference will focus on a number of key elements essential for the implementation of the future EASA cybersecurity requirements being developed through RMT.0720, in particular:

- Coordination between different authorities within the Member States (NAAs, cyber authorities, relevant ministries, etc);
- Coordination of implementation of the different cybersecurity regulatory frameworks (future EASA cybersecurity rules, NIS Directive 2016/1148 and Regulation 2015/1998;
- Risk management;
- Risk and information sharing.

Target audience

The Conference is addressed to personnel of the European Institutions, agencies and organisations, members of the EASA advisory bodies, authorities of the Member States, international regulatory partners, representatives of the industry and representatives of interest groups, involved in the cybersecurity of all aviation domains.

Agenda
