

FAQ n.121051FAQs:

Aircraft maintenance and continuing airworthiness, Brexit

Question:

As of January 1, 2021, can EASA Part-145 aircraft certification privileges be granted to a person holding an aircraft maintenance licence issued by the UK CAA?

Answer:

As of January 1, 2021, Part-145 certification privileges can be granted based on Aircraft Maintenance licenses issued by the UK CAA, subject to compliance with the provisions of EASA Part-145 Appendix IV and the geographical limitations defined in Point 145.A.30(j)(1)/(2) of Regulation (EU) No 1321/2012 (i.e. where maintenance is performed at organisation facilities located outside the EU territory or where line maintenance carried out at a line station of an organisation which is located outside the EU territory).

Last updated:

18/12/2020

Link:

<https://www.easa.europa.eu/en/faq/121051>