FAQ n.139613

FAQs:

Categorisation of software, Air Traffic Management / Air Navigation Services (ATM/ANS) ground equipment, Regulations

Question:

GM1 GE.GEN.003 'Software': It is stated that firmware is considered as software. Is this also the case for libraries, operating systems, enterprise service bus (in service-oriented architecture (SOA)), security software, and all software used for virtualisation (e.g. VMware)?

Answer:

Yes, if those are part of the equipment definition that is subject to the certification/declaration process.
