European Union Aviation Safety Agency

FAQ n.19411

FAQs:

Alternative Method of Compliance (AMOC) to an Airworthiness Directive (AD)

Question:

When will EASA issue the AMOC approval?

Answer:

Once the technical investigation is completed and the AMOC request thereby approved, EASA will immediately issue the approval, in electronic format and by email, to the applicant.

The original document will follow by (regular) post, sent together with EASA's invoice for the actual number of hours spent on the technical investigation, and addressed to the 'Financial Contact' person designated by the applicant on Form 42.
