Description

Event date: 8th March (from 10 am to 5 pm)

Location: Bonn / Bundesministerium für Verkehr und digitale Infrastruktur

On 8th March the LBA (Luftfahrt-Bundesamt) and the DAeC (Deutscher Aero Club e.V.) – in cooperation with EASA – organised the first GA Roadshow in German in Bonn. The event was hosted by the BMVI (Ministry of Transport and Digital Infrastructure).

Already two weeks after announcement, the event was fully booked. This shows the great interest of the GA community in Germany in the current developments aiming for simpler, lighter and better rules for GA.

A full day event was dedicated to give an update of the GA Roadmap project and highlight already implemented changes in the current the rules including an outlook on more alleviations to come in the area of GA to the 150 participants representing the big variety of GA stakeholders.

This was start the start of a series of roadshows to take place in 2016 and 2017 all over Europe.
