Description

Dates

21/06/2017 (from 14:00 - 17:00)

22/06/2017 (from 09:00 - 17:00)

General information

The 3rd EASA Flight Test & Human Factors Conference is the European forum dedicated to NAA or accredited organization flight test crews conducting flight and human factors activity in support of EASA to share their work, views and ideas on initial airworthiness and certification flight testing for both large and small airplanes and helicopters, relevant test techniques and current and future Certification Standards and requirements for the promotion of Aviation Safety.

We expect and encourage lively discussions during the conference.

Arrival Instructions

The conference takes place at the EASA offices at Konrad Adenauer Ufer 3, 50668 Cologne, Germany. Delegates should enter the building at the front. You will get in advance an invitation with QR-code and free WIFI access.

For information on accommodation in Cologne, please visit the booking platform ehotel. Type “EASA” in the field “Destination” and select “Köln, Deutschland” to get special rates.

Funding

There is no funding from EASA for this conference. Delegates should travel at their own expense, seeking reimbursement from their employer under their normal procedures). Similarly, the evening social events are at personal expense and there is no obligation to attend these.
