European Union Aviation Safety Agency

FAQ n.45955

FAQs:

ATM/ANS Specifics, Air Traffic Management (ATM) / Air Navigation Services (ANS), Regulations

Question:

Who is the ATM/ANS Competent Authority in my country?

Answer:

The competent authority responsible for the issuing of certificates to service providers, for the acknowledgment of receipts of declarations made by providers of flight information services where relevant, and for the oversight and enforcement in respect of service providers shall be the national supervisory authority.

Last updated:

26/03/2018

Link:

https://www.easa.europa.eu/en/faq/45955