

FAQs:

Applications for TCO a Authorisation, Third Country Operators \(TCO\), Regulations

Question:

What is the difference between the EASA TCO Authorisation and an operating permit issued by an EASA member State?

Answer:

The TCO Authorisation is a safety authorisation issued by EASA following a technical assessment. This technical authorisation issued by EASA is a mandatory prerequisite when applying with any EASA Member State for commercial traffic rights (operating permits), which continue to be issued directly by Member States.

Last updated:

14/03/2023

Link:

<https://www.easa.europa.eu/fr/faq/21600>