Description

EASA's Annual Safety Conference has a long standing tradition, every year addressing a different safety topic. The 2015 EASA Safety Conference focuses on the topic of Training for aircrew, as well as other aviation professional like air traffic controllers, maintenance engineers etc.

Among the speakers will be Vueling CEO, Alex Cruz and CEO of CAE Marc Parent. A series of Panel Discussions will follow over the next two days, addressing a range of topics including new EU regulations on training, pilot competency, inspector competency, new training methods & training technologies. The panels will provide a forum for fruitful discussions, with the participation of a varied group of speakers drawn from all areas of aviation including regulators, airlines, training organisations and associations.

This year's Conference is taking place in Luxembourg, coinciding with the country's Presidency of the Council of the EU.

The registration fee includes lunch and coffee breaks on both days of the Conference.
