

FAQ n.19385

FAQs:

Classification of changes (non-avionics), General Aviation

Question:

How does EASA treat my uncertificated ultralight/microlight aircraft?

Answer:

If the aircraft comes within the definition of Annex II to the Basic Regulation, it is not an EASA type and is handled under national rules. If it does not fit into this definition it is an EASA type and is covered under the procedures below.

Last updated:

02/12/2013

Link:

<https://www.easa.europa.eu/faq/19385>