European Union Aviation Safety Agency

FAQ n.20814

FAQs:

General, Airworthiness Directives (ADs)

Question:

Can the information provided on EASA's FAQ be considered as legally binding?

Answer:

EASA is not the competent authority to interpret EU Law. The responsibility to interpret EU Law rests with the judicial system, and ultimately with the European Court of Justice. EASA cannot even provide an 'authentic interpretation' (which is an official interpretation of a statute issued by the statute's legislator). Therefore any information included in these FAQs shall only be considered as EASA's understanding on a specific matter, and cannot be considered in any way as legally binding.
