

FAQs:

Technical Aspects and Interoperability , Automatic Dependent Surveillance — Light \(ADS-L\)

Question:

Does ADS-L require a GNSS source or other external sensors to provide accurate positioning?

Answer:

Devices transmitting ADS-L rely only on a GNSS position source, configuration settings, and pilot inputs to elaborate the ADS-L messages.

Last updated:

15/05/2025

Link:

<https://www.easa.europa.eu/sl/faq/141912>